

The Golden Hour

A hometown hospital can make the difference between life and death.

An individual who suffers a heart attack, stroke or major traumatic injury has a much greater survival rate if treatment begins within “60 minutes”
of the onset of symptoms or trauma.

This is known as
The Golden Hour.